INVESTIGATE KEATOR'S RACE.

STEWARDS QUESTION JOCKEY WALSH AND TRAINER WEIR.

Frank Farrell and His Friends Lose Big Bets on the Noted Sprinter in the Mean-time—Wheelock Wins $25,000 on Druid-Other Operations in the Ring.

The defeat of Frank Farrell's Keator in the third race, for three-year-olds, six furlongs, yesterday, was the sensation of the day, inasmuch as the stewards of the meeting scented something wrong and proceeded to investigate the race to the minutest details. The matter is still in abeyance. Keator, who had won a couple of races from selling platers in spreadeagle style, was the hottest kind of a favorite. He opened at 4 to 5, went up to even money and was then hammered down to 9 to 10. Two well known bookmakers, Eddie McDonald and H. Dargin, appeared to anticipate his defeat by "laying the Charaxus gelding, a proceeding that was taken as a tip by certain shrewd operators to stay off. Meanwhile Farrell and his friends were betting on Keator with their usual confidence. Farrell wagered exactly $2,400 on the gelding, while the Sulli-their usual confidence. Farrell wagered exactly $2,400 on the gelding, while the Sullivans and all of Farrell's friends were told by him to get down. Behind Eddie McDonald's book sat Dave Johnson, whose horses, Roseben and Jacquin, are handled by Frank Weir, the trainer of the Farrell horses. It is said that Johnson told McDonald tor lay against Keator in order to hunch the price in the ring so that the way would be well paved for the stable commission. Such was the case, too, it seems, for at the last moment Johnson instelled his men out with $4,000, which was bet on Keator at even money.

When the race started Keator seemed to get away rather poorly and quickly dropped back, which was in striking contrast to his previous races when he rushed to the front at great speed and had the others heaten in the first quarter. Jockey Walsh, who had the mount, soon went to the outside, but did not begin to rick Keator with vigor until he hit the head of the stretch. Then it was too late to get uside of the money, Handzarra running third half a longth before the Farrell entry. Meanwhile Druid, 5 to 1, had made all the running, attended by H. B. Durvea's Dreamer, 8 to 1. In the stretch Willie Knapp drew away with Druid, who won rather easily by three lengths in 1.12-55, with Droamer a lougth and a half before Handzarra. Druid's time was two-fifths of a second slower than the track record and was not by any means surprising when her smashing good race on Saturday last, in which she ran second to Roseben, was recalled.

smashing good race on Saturday last, in which she ran second to Roseben, was recalled.

The stewards, C. J. Fitzgerald presiding, immediatly called Jockey Walsh to their private room. They ordered Walsh to explain his apparently poor ride. The boy stated that he did not get off any too well, although Starting Judge Homan contradicted him, and went on to say that while he had been instructed to get the rail and take the shortest wayyone, he had found it impossible to do so. He declared that Kvater had been lame and under the circumstaves he was compelled to take a firm hold on him until he reached the stretch. Walsh hurst into tears and procested his innocence of wrongdoing, whereupon he was told to go and Trainer Weir was sent for.

Weir stated that on Wedlosday Keater developed lameness, due to a slight accident in his stall, and that he had sceaned the leg for several hours. Yesterday evening Kentrum was apparently as well as even and that was why he decided to send him to the front. Weir also told the scarrds that he had been made in starting him. Farrell was the sorest man at the track over the defeat. He had advised all of his friends to her on Keater and was at a less to understand his poor race.

George Wheelock, the president of the

and was at a less to unders'and his poor race.

George Wheelock, the president of the Mets, won $25,000 on Druid, who was well backed by F. R. Thomas, Smith Keime, Joe Rose and Alex Shields. The Lichtensteins and Joe Hayman were, among those who lost his bets on Keator, while Dreamer was supported by Eddie Lirke, Mark Riordan and others. Frank Tyler played Frince Hamburg to show.

Kinley Dale has been an exfensive money burner in all his races this year, but the wise men have apparently not yet lost faith in him, judger from the way he was played to win the fit ent yesterday. Thousands were poured to the ring on the son of Kinley Mack by such operators as Dave Johnson, E. E. Smathers, the Lichtensteins, Joe Rose. Billy Du Bois, Joby Walters, Frank Tyler, Jesse Lewisohn, Hayden Dargin and others, only to see the youngster practically begien at the start. The victory of Brook-Mayer, Jack McDonald, Eole Pearsall, and some of the clubhouse patrons.

Nose. Billy Dil Dills. "Mayden Dargin and others, only to see the youngster practically beaten at the start. The victory of Brookdale Nymph was a source of profit for Leo Mayer, Jack McDonald, Eole Pearsall and some of the clubhouse patrons. Wheelook, Tom Lloyd and H. McKenna bet on Guiding Star. Jee Yeager played Vagabond to show, Eddie McDonald took Kercheval, with Capias played by "Little Tim" Sullivan, Charley Heney and Morris Stack.

E. E. Smathers lost a substantial wager on Action in the second race, this horse proving a pitfall for John A. Drake, the Lichtensteins, Bill Beverly. M. Riordan and other well known players. The ring lost on the race, however, as Maior Dainsgrfield proved to be a killer, the old fellow being backed down to 8 to 1 at the last moment, with Lewisohn, Max Blumenthal, Stack, Joe Havman and John Moran aboard. Jim Davew and Joe Yeager lost good bets on Jerry Lynch, while Jack McDonald had a large wager burned up by Pronta, who was left standing at the barrier.

W. W. Darden and his friends, mostly from the West, hit the ring a solid blow when Nannie Hodge won the Jamaica Stakes. She was backed from 5 to 1 down to 16 to 5, Leo Mayer. Drake, Jack McGinnis and Joe I'llman taking about $55,000 from the books alone. Geranium was played by Charley Cash. Eddie McDonald, Sol Lichtenstein, Aleck Shields, Dave Johnson, Eole Pearsall, Wheelook, Tom Costigan, Bob Rose, Orlando Jones and Bill Brown. Frank Farrell lost $2,000 on King Pepper.

In the handicap Eddie Burke was about the only preminent speculator to cash on St. Pellane, his bei heing $5,000 to $500. Jim Davey, Aleck Shields and h., R. Thouas all bet on St. Valentine. Wheelook dropped $2,000 on Palmbearer, with Monsieur Beaucaire supported by Drake, Joe Yeager, Newton Bennington, Leo Mayer split $1,000 on Snow.

The Smathers commission did not show in the ring on Sly Ben, who won the last race at 10 to 1. Wheelook bet $2,000 on Osiris, and Jack McGinnis half that amount. The Lichtensteins, Bennington and Burlew all placed wagers on La bet $2,000 on Caprice and Loo Mayer split $1,500 on Snow.

Nannie Hodge, who was entered in the Jamaica Stakes to be sold for $1,200, was bid up to $2,000 by Joe Marrone, at which point Owner Darden bought her in with a $5 increase. Previous winners of this race were Briar Sweet, Voter, First Whip, Ethics, Gay Boy and Major Felham.

When Lyne weighed out preparatory to taking the mount on Garnish, in the handicap, he forgot to take blinkers to the scales with him. Later the stewards refused to allow the horse to wear them, although he had never run well without them, the result being that he was never a factor. It was simply a case of enforcing a rule, however, which was framed for the protection of the public.

There was a scrap in the betting ring before the races which was suppressed by the track police.

Merrick, who ran second in the opening event at 60 to 1, was sold the other day by Newton Bennington to J. A. Melvin, after he had run a bad race in which Lord of the Forest won, heavily backed. In that event it was said that Merrick, who was a favorite, was lame, but he showed no such ailment in yesterday's event.

lame, but he showed no such ailment in yesterday's event.

Harry Payne Whitney got to the track while his filly Brookdale Nyn ph was at the post. He asked Billy DuBois, in the clubhouse, what the price was against the daughter of Meddler, but before he could get a wager down they were off.

While E. R. Thomas bet on St. Valentine, owned by Alex, Shields, who handled his horses last year, he was disagreeably surprised to see St. Bellane, owned by his present trainer, R. E. Watkins, win the race. Watkins told his friends of the good thing and incidentally cleaned up.

NANNIE HODGE A GOOD THING. Darden's Mare Captures the Jamaica Stakes.

All six favorites met defeat at Brighton Beach track yesterday and the layers won thousands. Another big crowd was on hand in spite of the threatening weather, for the reason that the card was excellent and the success of the form players on Wednesday increased the fever to cash.

The Jamaica Stakes, for three-year-olds and upward, six furlongs, enabled W. W. Darden and his friends to put over a jammy good thing in Nannie Hodge, backed down to 16 to 5. JOE KELLEY TO THE BAR. Cincinnati Manager to Be Tried Here on Charges Made by Umpire.

Joe Kelley, the manager of the Cincinnati baseball team, is to be tried here on July 14 on charges made by Umpire Bausewine. Since Judge Sheldon of Boston, in his ruling in the McGraw-Deryfuss case, decided that the Fleischman resolution was dead, the new way of taking action when an umpire makes charges of unbecoming conduct on the part of a player is for the player to be notified of the charges, and also be notified to confront the bar of judgment, consisting of President Pulliam. Kelley will be the first player to be haled to this baseball court.

Bausewine charges that on July 3 Kelley used to him abusive, offensive, unparliamentary and several other kinds of "conversationings." He notified President Pulliam, and the latter notified Kelley that his case would be heard in the president's office in the St. James Building on the date named. It will not be necessary for Kelley to be there, He can submit his side of it in writing if he wants to, but anyway, Judge and Jury Pulliam, who has power to take action, if upon investigation he finds it warranted, will be there, and probably Bausewine; and the proceedings will take place with all due solemnity.

Kelley, if found guilty as charged in the indictment, can be fined any amount up to $200. Joe Kelley, the manager of the Cincinnati baseball team, is to be tried here on July 14

VANDERBILT RACE IN OCTOBER Cup Contest on the 14th-Elimination Trials Set for Sept. 28.

Through the filing of an application yesterday for the use of certain roads in Nassau county by Robert Lee Morrell, chairman of the American Automobile Association rac ing board, it was learned that the 1905 contest for the William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., trophy has been definitely arranged for Oct. 14. Two applications were filed at Mineola, L. l., with Halstead Scudder, counsel for the Board of Supervisors of Nassau county, re-questing permission to hold the elimination trials for the American team on Sept. 23 and the contest for the cup on Oct. 14. In one application Mr. Morrell asks for the use of certain roads in North Hempstead from 5 A. M. until noon on Sept. 23 for an automobile race, in which five prizes are to be awarded to drivers of American cars an automobile race, in which five prizes are to be awarded to drivers of American cars, the winners to represent this country in the contest for the Vanderbilt cup. The other application asks for permission to use the same roads on Oct. 14 between the hours of 5 A. M. and 3 P. M. for a speed contest between automobiles of American and foreign makes for a cup offered by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

The roads which it is desired to use for the contests are the Jericho turnpike from Mincola to East Norwich, then to the North Hempstead turnpike to Greenvale, then south to Bull's Head road to Willis avenue and then to Willets road to the place of starting. The course selected is a little more than 29 miles long and will be covered ten times, as the race distance is to be 300 miles. The board of supervisors will act upon both applications at its meeting next Monday.

The race was run for the first time on Oct. 8 last year, when the cup was won by George Heath in a Panhard car for France. For this year's contest four countries, France, Germany, Italy and the United States, have nominated full teams of five cars each. For the American team thirteen entries have been accepted by Chairman Morrell, and it is to pick the five fastest machines that the elimination trials are scheduled for Sept. 23. The cars which will enter the elimination trials are two Locomobiles, two Pope-Toledos, two Mathesons, and one each of the following makes: White (steam) Christie, Haynes, Tourist, Premier, Franklin and Thomas.
